FOREST FIRES REPULSED BY WEARY CREWS

New Outbreaks In Rainy River Area Controlled When Wind Drops

PORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 14.—Forest fires on new fronts in northwestern Ontario challenged firefighting resources today but flames were repulsed without further threat to life or serious property loss.

Overworked forestry crews, concentrating close to the front on a 40-mile stretch west from Port Frances, were called suddenly into action east of the fire-battered town when calls for help came yesterday from Alkirk, where a fire was spreading.

Forest firefighters answering the call were aided in successfully containing the fire by a drop in wind velocity.

Red mud was fire brought close to Port Frances today. Flamed by a high wind south from the river, the fire was kept from crossing the river from Black River along the narrow way from the town and burned fiercely last night two miles west.

Across the river, the 2,500 residents of International Falls, Minn., anxiously watched flames licking furiously through the forest, a mere two blocks from the city limits. Residents of Sault Ste. Marie, a group of 10 houses on the outskirts, were prepared to evacuate.

Throughout southwest outskirts of the town men and women were ready with garden hoses, pumps and shovels to fight back fire threats. Thundery flash lightning between the clouds.

Interim Program Is Explained By Floyd M. Baker

Secretary Of Soered Board Tells Merchants That Province Plans To Launch $3,000,000 Rural Road Program

Operation of the treasury branches under the government's interim program is not part of a "political scheme," but it is a "business proposition pure and simple," Floyd M. Baker, M.L.A., secretary of the Social Credit Board, told 25 members of the retail section of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon at the Macdonald hotel. Mr. Baker said that he thought the plan would commend itself so much to citizens that it would become an integral part of the economy of the province.

The provincial government hopes to launch a $3,000,000 rural road improvement program next spring, Mr. Baker declared. This project would be undertaken jointly by the province and the municipalities, and operation of the government interim program would be committal to finance the plan to the amount of $1,000,000.

Under the scheme the municipal district pays two thirds of the workers' pay by selling off its tax revenue while the province pays the remaining third by depositing funds in the workers' credit home established under the government's interim program.

The scheme, if undertaken, and carried out in full, would mean that municipalities would write off $2,000,000 of back taxes for road work, while the provincial government would be committed to finance the plan to the amount of $1,000,000.

Presided over by Joseph Green, chairman of the retail section, the meeting was held at the Macdonald hotel.

Foreign Minister Gives Assurances To Adolf Hitler

Fuehrer Regrets Question of Czechoslovakia's Hungarian Minority Has Not Yet Been Solved

PRAGUE, Oct. 14.—Czechoslovak political circles expressed the opinion today that Foreign Minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky had successfully closed the republic's case against "restored Hungarian demands" in his Munich conference with Chancellor Hitler. Sources close to the government predicted the expressed wish of Poland and Hungary for a common frontier at the expense of Czechoslovakia would be met with German opposition.

MUNICH, Oct. 14.—An official German announcement said today Frantisek Chvalkovsky, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, had given Chancellor Hitler assurances Czechoslovakia in future will accept "a loyal attitude" toward Germany.

The announcement came some two hours after Hitler had received the Czechoslovak envoy in the Reich chancellery. The Munich conference, which took place at the Reich chancellery, was the first since the signing of the Munich agreement.

The official account of the meeting and the Fuehrer had expressed profound regret that the question of Czechoslovakia's Hungarian minority had not yet been solved. He had told Chvalkovsky he hoped an amicable solution of this problem soon would be found.

VON REIBENTRUP ATTENDS
After conferences with German officials at Berlin yesterday, Chvalkovsky reached Munich this morning and at noon was ushered into the Fuehrer's presence in the chancellery.

Chvalkovsky was accompanied by German foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, who previously had conferred 45 minutes with Hitler. He was also accompanied by the German ambassador to Prague, Count Heinrich von Helldorf, and the German minister to Prague, Count Heinrich von Helldorf.

LAFLECHE TAKES RESPONSIBILITY BREN CONTRACT

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—Major-General L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defense, in a statement today for the first time admitted responsibility for the contract having been negotiated without inviting tenders.

"I took the responsibility and I would do the same thing again," there was no time during the negotiations with Major H. H. Bren, president of the John Inglis company of Toronto which gave the contract for 7,000 machine guns, when tenders would have been efficiently invited, he said.

One of the criticisms aimed at the contract in an article in Maclean's magazine written by Lt. Col. George Drew, Toronto lawyer, which precipitated the investigation being made by Justice H. H. Davies of the supreme court of Canada, was that no tenders were called.

GERMANY ASKS BRITAIN LIMIT ITS AIR FORCE

Proposes Limitation Of One-Third The Strength Of Germany's

By PAUL-LOUIS BRET
LONDON, Oct. 14.—A tentative German proposal that Great Britain should limit its air force to one-third the strength of Germany's has been unofficially transmitted to the British government through the Marquis of Londonderry, well-known proponent of Anglo-German co-operation.

The German plan, it was said, is to apply the principle of the Anglo-German naval agreement of 1935 with regard to public opinion in Germany.

On the grounds that Germany's air force would now be 100 per cent in excess of the limit, it was said to be a proposal to limit its air force to one-third the strength of Germany's.

Germany would agree to preserve the naval ratio and Anglo-German armaments would be thus stabilized in fixed proportions to the air and sea.

This was generally regarded here as a trial balloon. Only if British negotiations on this basis are feasible will Germany make its proposal formally, it was believed.

ROME, Oct. 14.—If Great Britain continues its large-scale armament, Germany may renounce the Anglo-German naval treaty of 1935, Italian officials in Berlin reported to Rome today.

According to this version of the present views of Germany's leaders, the British rearmament program will dispute the balance of power in Europe and will be regarded in Berlin as an attempt to establish a new balance of power.

France and British efforts to strengthen themselves are regarded in the Reich, these observers said, as efforts to make France and Great Britain strong enough to check the "natural evolution" of Germany.

BELFAST, Oct. 14.—A group of nationalists appealed to Chancellor Hitler today to aid their campaign for the unification of Ireland.

"We call upon you to use all endeavors to persuade Premier Chamberlain to bring about freedom for the minority in Northern Ireland."

Nazi Commissioner Legislates Against Austrian Catholic Hierarchy

SCHUSCHNIGG RELEASE MOVE IS OPPOSED

Hitler Backers Take Action Against Clerical Politicians

VIENNA, Oct. 14.—Joseph Schuschnigg, minister for Austria, last night announced three measures against the Austrian Catholic hierarchy as a result of what he said were "church attacks against the National Socialist party and Austria Hitler." One of these was to turn a deaf ear to Catholic pressure for release of Kurt V. Schuschnigg, deposed Chancellor, in custody at the Hotel Metropole headquarters of the Gestapo-German secret police. He has been in detention since the March 15 annexation of Austria.

"Clerical politicians who proposed the release of V. Schuschnigg now can submit this proposal to Hitler," Schuschnigg said in a radio broadcast from Vienna.

"The other two measures the minister announced were:

- 1—"We have definitely decided not to permit any more priestly schools for the priesthood."
- 2—"The Austrian Catholic politicians who had planned in connection with the National Socialist movement must be expelled."

The minister, speaking with full authority of Chancellor Hitler, said "Catholic and Jewish" in the Austrian press, demonstrating in favor of Cardinal Innitzer last Friday night's demonstration which turned out to be a protest to renew the following night.

WINDS OF BROTHERHOOD

Windows of the Anthropological palace were shattered with stones and the Cardinal, at prayer in his private chapel, suffered a forehead wound on that occasion.

Schuschnigg said that the National Socialist party had no responsibility for starting the damage and that responsible persons would be punished.

"It is well-understood that the National Socialist state condones, fails and will fail to take responsibility in account," he said.

After a few hours, there was a fierce attack on Cardinal Innitzer, each member of the Cardinal's staff was with him, and he was taken to the hospital.

Schuschnigg said that the Cardinal had written to him, asking him to resign his office as minister.

The third measure, "banish the Jews from Austria," he said, was a direct attack on Cardinal Innitzer, each member of the Cardinal's staff was with him, and he was taken to the hospital.

Schuschnigg said that the Cardinal had written to him, asking him to resign his office as minister.

Glamour Girl

Although she does not make her debut until December 27, Brenda Fraser, daughter of Mrs. Frederic N. Watson, already is being popular as the glamour girl of the debutante season in New York.

When the Nazi party and the church, Brenda laid down these principles:

- 1—"Beliefs matters are the affairs of each individual. What one believes or does not believe does not concern others. There is no religious matter to do with and a church."
- 2—"If you pray against us in church then I demand of every individual, national socialist that he have nothing more to do with and a church."

WILL NOT ATTACK LORD

All this time the crowd shouted: "We will leave the church!" "I have no intention to attack our Lord. Either the church is a house of prayer or we have nothing to do with it."

"Marriage and schools belong to the state," she said. "They are guaranteed for our nation."

"The public trusts belong to the state. Nobody is permitted to demonstrate on them except ourselves. In the future we shall accept every attempt to demonstrate in the streets in a way which does not harm the state."

"There is no church. There is no church. There is no church."

MOB CATASTROPHES

After the main meeting a hooligan mob, consisting of about 500 men, broke into the hall and started a riot.

Schuschnigg said that the National Socialist party had no responsibility for starting the damage and that responsible persons would be punished.

"It is well-understood that the National Socialist state condones, fails and will fail to take responsibility in account," he said.

Justice Davis Adjourns the Hearing Early When Jurisdiction Questioned

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—Justice H. H. Davis, royal commissioner investigating the Bren gun contract, adjourned Thursday's sitting half an hour earlier than had been expected following clashes between counsel and an objection by Mr. L. B. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence, to observations from the commissioner which he said were going "out to the public as conclusions." Col. Balfour, who led the inquiry was a "political trial."

The judge adjourned the sitting without comment at Major General L. B. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence, ended his fifth day on the witness stand. General LaFleche said he was bound by government policy and could not agree to a British government according to the defence department. He said the Bren gun was the only one of its kind in the world.

Canadian Bluenose Evens Score in Fishing Schooner Contest

LONDON VARSITY DOCTOR COMING TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. Charles Drummond Ellis, professor of physics, King's College, University of London, will arrive in the city Sunday night, and will visit the University of Alberta campus for one week. Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, president of the university, said Thursday.

Formerly associated with the late Sir Edward Rutherford, famed British physicist, Dr. Ellis is visiting this country with his wife, and is traveling across the Dominion by arrangement with Canadian university executives.

He will speak at a faculty-student meeting in Convocation hall Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. on the subject "Development of Modern Scientific Thought."

Man Acquitted Of Killing Woman By B.C. Jury Probe

NELSON, B.C., Oct. 14.—An assize court jury last night acquitted Seth Daniel Ostlund of murder of Mrs. Laura Green, whose beaten body was found in a railway cut near Taghum, seven miles west of here, last July.

The jury deliberated 25 minutes after hearing Chief Justice Aulay Morrison say in his address all evidence was circumstantial and that the crown had not shown the prisoner had the exclusive opportunity of perpetrating the crime, a necessary prerequisite to establishing guilt.

Mrs. Green's body was found early on July 13, some hours after she had taken a taxi from her Nelson home for Taghum, where she told her daughter, the latter testified earlier in the trial she was to meet Charles H. Drake, of Grand Forks, B.C.

PARK LEAGUE IS GIVEN ADDRESS ON YOUTH PLAN

A large and enthusiastic gathering attending a social and dance at the King Edward Park Community hall Wednesday night heard Rev. B. G. Sibbards, of Red Deer, director for northern Alberta of the government youth training program, officially launch the K. E. P. group on its winter course of recreation and physical education.

During the evening, instructors Mildred Sturges and Instructor "Toon" Woodland expressed satisfaction at the large enrollment and the enthusiasm of the group was well reflected in the decision to commence classes Thursday and Friday nights.

RELIEF JUMPS TORONTO AREA SINCE 1937

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Gross cost of relief in Toronto during the first nine months of 1939 totaled $5,529,132, compared with $5,411,801 for the same period last year, according to a statement released Wednesday by A. W. Laver, welfare commissioner. Number of persons on relief during September was 36,706, compared with 36,823 a year ago.

Cooperated with the government to the extent of allowing the classes the use of the league hall for four nights a week, commencing Monday, and continuing throughout the duration of the course.

A vote of thanks was accorded Gordie Henderson and his Cavaliers orchestra, who donated their services to the group for the evening.

U.S. VESSEL DEFEATED BY 12 MINUTES

Thetford Sets Early Pace, But Stout Defending Boat Finishes Well

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 14.—The old queen of the north Atlantic, Captain Angus Wallace's big sail barker Bluenose, Thursday defeated Captain Ben Pittner's challenger for the international fisheries trophy, the schooner Gertrude L. Thetford, trading the title applicant around a purported 40-mile course by 12 minutes.

Thetford sailed away with honors Sunday in their opening engagement of the three of five series, leaving each contender with one victory.

Bluenose's elapsed time of four hours, 39 minutes and 18 seconds was within about five minutes of the record for the course. But, because of the lightness of the prevailing southwesterly breeze, never exceeding 18 miles an hour, many expressed doubt if the schooner actually sailed 40 miles.

FIND BLOWS FAULTY
The double received some support from the rival sailors, who had difficulty finding inconspicuous trail buoy used to mark the course and who expressed belief they were improperly placed.

Use of such marks in water already liberally dotted with travel buoys for more precise duty was perhaps unfortunate.

A part of the Bluenose's margin was established on the second leg of the course, a 10-mile beat. Thetford went far to seaward of the true turning mark, her course misled by a fisherman's travel buoy, beside which the competitor boat had taken up a station.

Thursday's course was charted as 20 miles, equalized to include with a five-mile "tail," the tail to be sailed twice.

After an 11:30 a.m. starting signal, delayed from 9:00 by lack of a breeze, Bluenose was first across the line, but Thetford, forcing faster, soon drew up to weather and passed her.

WEATHERS CHALLENGER
It was a lead she was unable to hold and the big defender soon weathered the challenger's challenge. The five-mile mark first by 39 seconds.

Then began the 10-mile windward leg, on which Bluenose increased her lead to 15 minutes and 15 seconds. The relative positions of the schooners remained almost unchanged throughout the balance of the contest.

A course intended to send the contenders twice around the 10-mile course has been charted for tomorrow, Captain Angus calls it a "crazy-ground" and some supporters of Thetford say the latter and some advantage on it because the schooner can turn more quickly than her big opponent. The committee set 9:00 a.m. as starting time.

TORONTO "U" READY TALK OF HUSBANDS

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—If—and when—better husbands are made, the University of Toronto Student Christian movement wants to sponsor them. At a dinner starting right now to do something about it.

The group decided today to hold a weekly extra-curricular course on marriage for male students at various times.

When Rev. J. D. Parks, of High Park United church, concluded a preliminary lecture yesterday on "Youth and Marriage," a forest of hands stretched high in the air to indicate willingness of 200 member members crowding the room to follow a course on marriage, described by Dr. Parks as an "art."

Missing Youth Gets Advice on Baseball Tryout

J. J. McCarthy, 1888 115 street, father of Thomas McCarthy, teen-aged youth missing from his home since last Friday, reported Thursday he had received a communication from a friend in Detroit, Michigan, that may induce the young man to return to his home here.

A latest scout for the Detroit Tigers, baseball team, for which he has the youth "tried" this summer, advises young McCarthy to stay in Edmonton for two years, developing his playing ability, and preparing for further tryouts with the Tigers when he is 19.

Mr. McCarthy hopes that his son will take the scout's advice and return to Edmonton.

Crowding In

The city voters' list this year sets a new all-time high record, with a total of 38,753 names. This is a gain of 2,201 over the figures for last year. There has been during the year—as last year—a fairly heavy migration of young men from the city into the north country, men whose names would otherwise appear on the list. The evidence is plain that the influx which started several years ago, though not sustained, and is fairly normal in volume. In five years or so, at the present rate, the population should reach the 100,000 mark.

In the circumstances this inevitably calls attention to the unsatisfactory housing situation and the need of something being done to relieve congestion. This has long since been the safety point in regard both to health and to fire hazard. All over the city people are crowded in sub-divided houses like rabbits in a warren. Rents are out of proportion, and new accommodation is not being created fast enough to keep pace with the current growth.

The city council has decided it can do nothing to start a building program under the Dominion housing scheme as this is interpreted to apply. The burgesses are to be asked, by plebiscite, to say whether they want next year's council to make any attempt to get a construction program started. Should their reply be in the negative, there is in prospect a year from now a duplication of the spectacle of 30 years ago, when new-comers were living in tents and make-shift quarters, alike unsightly and unsanitary. This is Edmonton's growing time, and through a combination of adverse circumstances the growth is not being adequately provided for.

More Power to Them

Edmonton people will note with interest that delegates from the four western provinces are to gather here tomorrow at the annual meeting of the National Parks Highway Association. This is an organization of people in the four provinces who are concerned in promoting the development of the "evergreen" highway, projected to run from Winnipeg by way of Saskatoon, Edmonton and Jasper to Vancouver. Throughout most of the discussion this requires nothing more than the improvement of already existing highways from Winnipeg to Jasper and from Blue River to Kamloops. But it also requires the construction of a highway westward from Jasper to connect with the British Columbia system. This would give residents of the northern parts of the province a direct route to the Coast, and connection also with towns along the Prince Rupert line of the C.N.R.

It has been said there was little interest in the British Columbia in the bridging of the gap between Jasper and the highway network of that province, is particularly interesting on that point, is that among those attending the meeting are to be representatives of McBride, Prince George, Blue River and Kamloops. In northern British Columbia at least there is evidently a growing appreciation of the importance of linking the communities with the prairie centre by a direct highway, which would be the more valuable to them because it would draw tourist traffic bound to and from Vancouver.

There is, unfortunately, little enough prospect that the western section of the "evergreen" highway will be built in the early future. But there is plenty of evidence that it never will be built unless the Association and other interested organizations and parties keep everlastingly demanding it.

Who Will Be Next?

What was intended by Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier to be nothing more than a peaceful transfer of 10,000 square miles or so of Czech territory to Germany seems likely to end in the complete dismemberment of the republic. Internal dissension has joined foreign aggression to pull it to pieces, and the process of dissolution is making headway both from within and without.

Poland following Herr Hitler's lead and was given what it demanded. Hungary's demands were so excessive the Czechs protested and an ultimatum has been served on them. The Slovaks staged a bloodless revolt and so of Czech territory to Germany bordering on complete separation. The Carpathian Rumanians emulated their example, with like results. Hitler having struck down the prey, the border states hurried to the feast, while the none too cohesive racial groups in the territory remaining are aiding in the destruction of the country.

This is of no direct importance to Canada, and does not involve immediate loss for the great powers in Europe. But what must interest them, and cannot be viewed with unconcern in any part of the world, is the demonstration of how completely collective security has been destroyed—and what is following as the direct result. Aggression is holding high carnival in the middle of the old continent, and waxing stronger as it gorges itself on the victim.

It is really imagined, or imaginable, that as it grows strong the predatory instinct will not also grow more voracious, and demand new victims? That must be hoped, but it cannot in reason be expected. In what is happening to Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Denmark and Poland must see they are looking at what will happen to them also in due course. Czechoslovakia, the sacrifice, has become also a symbol.

Editorial Notes

Fire running in timberlands in the Fort Frances district caused twenty known deaths, while thirty other persons are missing. There is terrible timeliness in this reminder that more attention should be paid to the prevention of fires, in rural areas as well as in towns.

The C.C.F. leader in Saskatchewan says he "does not object to the science of economics as such." Economists will feel duly relieved no doubt. Being in the mood to make concessions, perhaps the leader will also allow the law of gravity to operate yet a while.

Viscount Chaplin says the Alberta oil fields are more important to the Empire since Mexico confiscated the wells of the British companies operating there. Mexican oil may—or may not—be available to Britain in the event of war. Canadian oil would be, if low freight rates or a pipeline made it procurable at tide-water. The moral is to provide the "outlet" now. Mexico may have done the Dominion an unintended good turn.

House-holders and businessmen in one large district in the city were given a demonstration on Tuesday of the wisdom of having a standby arrangement with the Calgary Power Company, when the electric supply of a section of the city was cut off by a lightning bolt. The company line and lights went out and power failed. Fortunately the interruption was brief, and it was not necessary to call on the company for current. But it was long enough to draw attention to what an interruption means, and there is no guarantee that the more serious mishap will not be up the city system some day for a longer period.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

If you've never experienced that sinking feeling in the pit of the stomach when a traffic cop motions you to draw to the side of the curb and stop, while his valise waits for you. You ticket in his hand, you can stop it. You won't appreciate its full significance. This happened in Yorkton, where traffic cops GOT A SURPRISE.

They are as judge, jury and principal hall-keepers.

The cops there have a cheerful little habit, at this time of year, of stopping third-looking motorists with a valise in their hand, and the cop struts over, feeling in his pocket where he keeps his notebook and tickets, and pedestrians stand aside, the poor motorist in a cold sweat, cudge his brains to try and remember which traffic law he may have broken.

Says the cop, handing a couple of tickets to the driver, "You've broken the law, you've broken the law for the Policemen's Hall. You've broken the law." "I have," he says, "I have."

Most of the victims are so relieved to find that they are not out of a law, and in public, and a fine from the magistrate, they hand over the $2.00 gladly.

Last week Patrolman Michael Heagan of the Third Force waved a quiet-looking driver to the side of the road and asked him to make a sale while the customer was still feeling dazed. The quiet-looking chap, after he had the request to stop, put his hand into his inside breast pocket, as if feeling for his wallet.

Instead of a $2 bill he handed Officer Heagan a summons for contravention of the Motor Vehicle Act, Article 10, of the Motor Vehicle Act. After the motorist had driven away and the officer had recovered his senses sufficiently to look up the section, he found it read:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to stand in a roadway for the purpose of stopping a private vehicle in order to solicit funds to be collected from or added to the account of such vehicle."

Practically the whole police force is in fear of convictions calling for $10 fine for a first offence and fine and imprisonment for subsequent offences.

Some of the automobile fraternity are unwitting enough to make the way of the manager of the Westminster branch of the A.A.A. turned the trick on the cop.

At Little Falls, Minnesota, is a former German motorist, who, while driving, had a Hitler in "just a car." He is the sergeant under Hitler served during the Great War.

While the heads of the great democracies were carrying round trying to save their countries from war, a reporter called on Mr. Hitler, his firm near Little Falls to get his impressions of Hitler.

JUST A CORPORAL, at the cost of demerit-bombs, the Nazi party has been making a big war in another year or two, a reporter called on Mr. Hitler, his firm near Little Falls to get his impressions of Hitler.

Mr. Patrick stopped long enough from his harvesting to say that he didn't think Hitler would want to fight with the British during the Great War. "I'm sure he wants nothing more than to be a now asking in Czechoslovakia," he said.

"What kind of a person was Hitler during the war?" the reporter asked.

"He was just a corporal," said Patrick. "What could he say or do? Eight years ago, when I was in the army, I had four years under me. I had to give orders to him but he never talked much with me."

Thomas Carlyle put it more succinctly when he said "No man is a hero to his valet."

Persecution of the Jew Jews who ventured to remain in the Sudeten areas, began with the occupation by German troops and the returning Sudeten Germans. German Jews from a racial minority had no right to propose to protect.

Nazism knows no genuine impulses towards peace, it assails. Having seized Austria by force, the Nazi party has been making a big war in another year or two, a reporter called on Mr. Hitler, his firm near Little Falls to get his impressions of Hitler.

Under the nose of the Nazis a forbidden collection of books, pamphlets and cartoons that escaped the Nazi burnings, has reached this continent. They were saved from the flames by Kurt Pinckert, formerly dramatist and film critic of the Berlin, and now lecturer on European literature at the University of Toronto.

TURNED TRICK: The collection, now on exhibition, includes first editions of many of the exiled German writers, including the French writer, who received "underground" circulation, and a copy of an anti-war drama, written in Germany during the World War by Hans Hagedorn.

Only fifteen copies of this drama were made. These were secretly printed. Von Bettmann-Hollweg, German war-time Chancellor, received one of them.

Nothing succeeds like audacity. The collection was transported to America by the Nazis, unaware, of course, of the character of the packages placed in their hands for shipment. These pieces of literature will form source material for some future historian of the rise and fall of Nazism.

Profit From Gold

The United States continues to be the great profit center of the world, and for a number of reasons for this. The United States government is likely willing to buy all the gold offered, and the people throughout the world have confidence in the United States dollar. It is the only one of the strongest admirers of the dollar.

United States people have never enjoyed. The United States dollar is the only one of the strongest admirers of the dollar.

Old Country Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Eng.—(By Mail)—London has just found a solution for the problem of the waiting motor-car, the car which sets its owner down at the door of a retail establishment and remains at the curb until the owner is usually after he has finished his shopping. Of course, there is a time limit; the car can remain only for a few minutes. But what if it is there, and while other cars are there, also, traffic is slowed up.

To the visitor who travels by motor-bus or by trolley and along Oxford street on any ordinary afternoon the slow progress made is simply exasperating. The vehicle crawls a few yards forward, then pulls up, and so on.

IDLE MEN AND DOLLARS BEGIN BOOMING ERA

Jobs and Money Crop Up More Plentiful In America

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Idle men and dollars were on the march to work today in United States factories and financial markets, reversing the autumn trend a year ago.

Up-to-minute job figures were lacking but there were various hints employment was moving up with autumn acceleration of industrial revival. Idle men would be about 8,000,000 men would be back to work in the Chrysler automobile plants next week following job gains in automotive centers recently as assembly lines sped out of 1938 cars.

Steel mills were regarded in Wall Street as likely sources of employment gains on a rising tide of demand for industrial metals.

BETTER MARKETS
Returns of idle dollars to employment in security markets was resumed with a rush after the Columbia 200,000 shares were taken as shares started to the highest prices recorded on the quotation boards in a year or more.

Reversal, explaining the buying of millions of dollars were added to an estimated $120,000,000,000 rise in listed share values since the Munich four-power conference, two weeks ago, dispelled immediate war fears.

CITY OF EDMONTON
Light and Power Department

Modern Apartment Home Is Finished In Central Block

Setting a new standard for future builders to aim at, the de luxe McDonald Apartments, just completed on the northeast corner of 104 street and 99 avenue, bring an entirely new conception in apartment construction to this city.

Designed and built by K. L. McKelvie, who made a special trip to San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities in the western United States to learn the latest trends in architecture and apartment buildings, before commencing the work on it, the new structure is a modern as tomorrow.

The streamlined exterior of the three story structure, built at a cost of more than $30,000, finished in white stucco, with everted eaves, presents a strikingly attractive picture of the type of buildings that the Edmonton of the future will contain.

SPECIAL MATERIALS
Special fireproofing and sound-proofing materials have been used in the construction to insure the safety and privacy which the discerning "small domestic" demands.

A modern central heating and air-conditioning plant which automatically maintains a constant temperature in all rooms in the 11 suites the apartment complex has been installed.

This plant strains the air as it enters, cools it in the summer and heats it in the winter, before it is blown into the rooms by every room.

INTERNAL DESIGN
The internal design and construction of the block, like the exterior, combines utility with beauty so effectively that even such necessary and usually ornamental things as windows and doors become an integral part of the rhythm and streamlining which makes the apartments so attractive. The doors are hardwood while every window is equipped with everted blind. Floors are hardwood.

Electric fireplaces bring double comfort to the winter months. Living-rooms, electric ranges and refrigerators, built-in cupboards, and planned arrangement of every article make the kitchen an ideal home. The doors are hardwood while every window is equipped with everted blind. Floors are hardwood.

Built in bookshelves and china cabinets prove to be not only economical but actually add to the appearance of the room.

BATHROOMS
Bathrooms, too, finished with colored, anti-factors, showers and sporting color schemes maintain the high standard of beauty, utility, and modernity which make the entire structure.

Spotlighting The Sport Girl

By SUZIE QUE

HAVE been reading over the new basketball official rule book for next season with its profuse changes from last year's printing. The editor of the book states that the rules are becoming complex, and that the rules committee is constantly on the verge of a new players and coaches who should be so much more in even and the committee has to make these changes to meet conditions during these times.

A suspicion of someone's trickery is aroused when the official size of the ball is changed one-quarter of an inch in circumference. It looks as if an effort was being made to force the sale of new balls. A large measure will now be involved with first aid supplies, perhaps.

From the first cursory reading, we control find a single mention of the word line was purchased by the Paul of the American National Basketball Association.

VICTORIA, Oct. 14.—British Columbia consumers will save roughly $500,000 a year for every one per cent reduction in gasoline price effected by the provincial fuel commission, an estimate released yesterday.

Wednesday Dr. W. A. Garfield, president and chairman of the fuel commission, said he would order a reduction in gasoline prices within 10 days, the order is subject to approval of the provincial cabinet.

While Dr. Garfield said the reduction in gasoline prices had not been determined definitely, one report said it might be three or four cents. The present Vancouver price is 27 cents a gallon for standard gasoline and 29 cents for higher grades. The reduction in gasoline prices would be a boon to the province's motorists.

Death Menace in Ontario Forest Fire Passes as Wild Wind Abates

TOWNS SAVED BY RANGERS IN GRAVE BATTLE

Ten Hospital Victims Said To Be Recovering—Food Supplies Provided

PORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 14.—(Press.)—Flaming forest fire threatened to renewed activity Thursday by a wild south wind abated last night as the wind dropped and two northwesterly gales towns were given a respite from threatened destruction.

Residents of Alkoba, 30 miles east of Port Frances, and Crilly, 30 miles northwest, called for help when showers of sparks were swept from the town by the first wind.

Chief fire ranger William Derby raised five fighting companies to the new area in the fire zone by telephone, sending 10 to 20-mile southward from Port Frances.

Derby arranged for a special freight car to carry 5,000 feet of hose, two fire pumps and a relay tank to Alkoba, and immediate danger to the town was forestalled.

Equipment was sent to Crilly, electric power station which relay power from Moss Falls and Crilly, to Port Frances and International Falls, Minn.

Vague reports reaching Port Frances last night said blueberry island, in the heart of the country between here and Kenora, was ravaged by flames with numbers of tourist camps and cottages destroyed. Those reports could not be confirmed here.

Diligent search for fire-wrecked districts is continuing but no further causes have been found and the death list, now 20, is not expected to grow further.

VICTIMS IMPROVE

The 10 victims in hospital here were reported improving although improvement was slight in condition of 10-year-old Harold Labadie, whose mother said her son came out of the fire with severe burns on his head. Her father, Frank Labadie, and uncle, William Labadie, were elsewhere.

Derby and volunteers fought to keep the flames from attacking communities from which residents have fled. Motor trucks raised women and children out of Jewell and Newton township and relief crews found them shelter at situation, 40 miles west of Port Frances.

Bedding and food supplies were prepared for the eight women and 25 children raised to situation. Hundreds and some remained at their homes to battle the fire but it was

Most Kissed

Clark Gable, Thelma Houston and other movie stars are in it with 11-year-old Delmar Watson, most kissed male in Hollywood, who is 16 years by 20 years old. Delmar was a New York City racket-busting crusader. He has not as yet been released from that plan of action, but between the lines of his speeches there begins to appear, to the eyes of Washington political observers, the shadow of a plan to become which he might stand for White House honors.

Calgary Rider Is In Money At New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(Press.)—Wah of Toronto, competing against it broke riders, annexed first money last night in the saddle bronc riding contest when he rode "Sweetie" at Madison Square Gardens, 19th annual world's championship rodeo.

Low Canada rider, Ferno, of Calgary, came through to win second money in the steer riding contest.

Student Guilty

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(Press.)—Richard Jenkins, 20-year-old student at the University of Cambridge, was convicted today in Old Bailey court on a charge of wounding with intent to do bodily harm and was sentenced to four years' imprisonment.

Dewey Strategy In Fight For Governor Of New York Attracting Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The campaign strategy of young Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, is attracting special attention in Washington.

While Dewey stuck to safe measures both in his acceptance speech and his first major campaign address, there was a clear-cut picture of his attitude on broader national issues.

The picture is of interest because of the possibility that Dewey might give him a long head-start toward a republican presidential nomination in 1940.

Reports from Dewey headquarters at the time he was drafted to make the New York race indicated he would confine himself almost exclusively to state issues and his New York city racket-busting crusade.

He has not as yet been released from that plan of action, but between the lines of his speeches there begins to appear, to the eyes of Washington political observers, the shadow of a plan to become which he might stand for White House honors.

First glimpse of that came in the acceptance speech. It outlined the view it was the "function of the state" to protect its citizens "from economic catastrophes which sweep away their means of livelihood through no fault of their own," as well as to guard them against racketeering and political exploitation.

The view is that one can only mount the state of New York, but it is not a national government.

Further on Dewey related his views on "the ownership and use of the natural resources of this state" to protect "the interests of our own people" for having "passed" the "invaluable and perpetual ownership of such resources by the people of the state." That is a political national power policy plan, as some politicians here read it.

While Mr. Dewey can keep within the line of strategy on a state to protect "the interests of our own people" for having "passed" the "invaluable and perpetual ownership of such resources by the people of the state." That is a political national power policy plan, as some politicians here read it.
